TELLS OF CRUISE TO SOUTH AMERICA

ENSIGN JOHN K. ROSS MAKES VISIT HERE.

NATIONS MORE CORDIAL

Visits Made to All Ports Show Relations With U. S. Becoming More Friendly.

The relations of the United States with South America are steadily growing better, according to Ensign John K. Ross, who is in Maryville on thirty-day leave. He is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Key.

Ensign Ross has recently returned from a year's cruise in South American waters. The cruising squadron was composed of eight ships. The cruise started from Boston on October 16, 1920, and returned to the same port October 14, 1921, the cruise lasting just two days less than a year.

The purpose of the cruise was to foster friendly relations between this government and the South American Republics. Stops were made at all the leading ports, and Ensign Ross, with the other officers of the squadron, was entertained at a dinner given in honor of the presidents and other dignitaries of the republics.

Economic conditions in South America are very unstable, according to Ensign Ross. Especially is this true of the currency, except in Panama, where American money is used almost exclusively. Opportunities in the new countries are unlimited for men who go with a knowledge of the language and with good connections, but for a young man to "go it alone" is extremely precarious, he declares.

Ross is stationed on the U. S. S. Cruiser Dolphin, which is now at Boston. It will go out of commission on December, when it will probably be sold to some foreign country. Ensign Ross will then be transferred to some other vessel.

The South American cruise was the last which the Dolphin will take under the colors of the United States. It was the flagship of the commander of the special service squadron. Among the ports visited on the cruise were Guantanamo Bay, Cuba; Colon and Balboa in the Canal Zone; Callao and Lima, Peru; Santiago, Valparaiso, Port Lemon and Harbor of Eden, Chile; the Straits of Magellan; Corinto and Bluefields, Nicaragua; Pearl Islands, Bocos del Toro, Cota and Admiralta, Panama; Porto Lemon, Costa Rica; and Porto Berreos, Guatemala.

At Punto Arranious, the squadron assisted in the celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the Straits of Magellan.

Ensign Ross attended the Maryville grade schools and high school and the State Teachers College. He was a student in Drake University when he enlisted for service in the navy during the war. He rose through the ranks of apprentice seaman, third, second and first class seaman, to quartermaster and was then sent to a training school and given an examination for ensign's commission, which he passed. He received special training in radio and other communication and in court martial work.

MAY ADD MEN TO CITY POLICE FORCE

THE MERCHANTS WANT TOWN BETTER GUARDED AT NIGHT

GOVERNMENT IR AROUSED

Trains Through Maryville Have Marines in Mail Cars to Stop Hold-Ups

Maryville's night police force may be increased during the next few months as the result of discussions among the merchants and city authorities caused by reports of robberies in other towns.

It is predicted that the crime wave will be at its height during the winter months on account of so many people being out of employment. There would also be added protection from fire by having more men watching the business district of the city.

At present there are two men employed, one by the city, and the other by the merchants of the town. It is clearly impossible for two men to keep guard on every business house in town, but with more it will be a risky thing for any one to enter a building and escape with any amount of goods.

Other towns in this section are discussing the matter of having more men on duty. Bedford, Ia., is going to have three men to guard the business district of that town. Action was taken there following the recent robbery of a clothing store in that town, when $600 or $700 worth of goods were taken.

The government is very much alarmed by the number of hold-ups of mail trains and every precaution is being taken now to safeguard the mails. A number of marines have been called out and every mail train has two or more marines stationed in the mail car, as well as marines stationed in the terminals and going with the mails from the post office to the depots. All of the mail trains on the Wabash railroad passing through Maryville have marines on the trains. Other precautions are also being taken by the post office department to guard post offices and other government property.

DR. JESSE MILLER HOME FROM THE LEGISLATURE

Special Session Will Adjourn Tomorrow Noon—Was The Second Special Sessions Held

Dr. Jesse Miller, Nodaway county representative, returned this morning from Jefferson City, where he has been attending the special session of the legislature which has been in session since Monday, September 7. The soldiers' bonus bill providing a bonus of $10 for each month of service, was the important measure adopted.

The house yesterday voted for a bill providing for the sale of the road bonds for March 1, 1922, instead of March 15, 1923. The senate bill makes the sale of the bonds for January 1, 1922. The house bill now goes back to the senate.

The senate last night eliminated a section of the house general appropriations bill, adding $25,000 to the old appropriation for the state tax commission at the end of the longest and most acrimonious debate of the session.

The assembly is expected to close tomorrow noon.

This is the second special session of the assembly to be held.

Mrs. H. B. Cushman and children, Garnet Lucile and Herman Buell, are visiting Mrs. Cushman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Myers, and her sister, Mrs. John Nickerson, in Bethany. Mr. Cushman and Roy Bryan, who accompanied them to Bethany Monday, returned to Maryville yesterday.

ANOTHER WARNING AGAINST SMALLPOX

STATE HEALTH COMMISSIONER WRITES DR. H. S. ROWLETT

HAVE ENOUGH VACCINE

Officers Have Ordered Vaccine and Good Supply Has Now Been Received

Fresh warning against an epidemic of smallpox in its most dangerous form was received yesterday by Dr. H. S. Rowlett in a letter from Dr. Cortez F. Enloe, state health commissioner. Dr. Rowlett is deputy state commissioner of health for Nodaway County.

The state health officer urges Dr. Rowlett to telegraph him immediately of any case discovered in this county and the immediate and rigid quarantining of any person coming in contact with the disease. He urges a general campaign for vaccination.

The people of Maryville have already been warned against the disease by the city health officers and Dr. Rowlett. The warning is now extended to all parts of the country.

There are no cases of the disease in the county now, so far as the authorities know. There were a few cases of smallpox in a very light form early last shmmer, but the last quarantine was lifted in June.

After urging all residents of Maryville and the county to submit to vaccination, the health officers discovered tha. there was only a very small supply of vaccine in the city. Additional supplies have been ordered and enough has now been received to protect the city through vaccination.

Physicians report that several persons have already been vaccinated in Maryville.

"If we find that our people are not heeding this warning, we will be forced to take steps to compel the vaccination of all school children in the city," the officials said.

The health commissioner's letter to Dr. Rowlett follows:

"For your information, there have occured in Kansas City during the past thirty days, 127 cases of smallpox and 39 deaths. Most of the cases have been of the confluent or hemorrhagic type.

"You are urged to be on the alert to discover promptly every suspected case of smallpox under your jurisdiction, and to take every possible precaution in regard to quarantine and vaccination to prevent the disease gaining a foothold in your county. Please report by telegraph to this office the occurence of any confluent or hemorrhagic case of smallpox.

"Every contact with a case of smallpox must be vaccinated or placed under full quarantine for a minimum of fourteen days from last exposure. In addition, this is an opportune time to start a general campaign for vaccination."

At Kansas City, where there have been six deaths from the disease in the last twenty-four hours, it is agreed by Dr. E. H. Bullock, health director, and Dr. W. L. Gist, superintendent of the General hospital, where the majority of smallpox cases in the city are isolated, that the safest rule in the present emergency is to get vaccinated, regardless of previous vaccination scars.

Also that if a vaccination does not take, persons should be re-vaccinated repeatedly.

The degree or length of immunity varies in different persons, Dr. Gist said today.

He said that although over a period of ten or twelve years he had only seen about two cases of smallpox in persons previously successfully vaccinated, the present epidemic has shown that some persons do not hold their immunity.

As an example Dr. Gist cited the case of a man now in the isolation hospital who had been successfully vaccinated nine years ago and also six years ago.

Seven other persons in the isolation ward suffering from smallpox at present had previous successful vaccinations, but the ages of the "takes" range from fifteen to sixty years. Most of those cases are not severe.

Dr. Gist does not believe that anyone is naturally immune to the disease. Dr. W. M. Harper, a physician now in the isolation hospital with smallpox, had had several vaccinations without a take. Another victim had been vaccinated six times without a take.

Purl Edwards returned last week from Kansas City, where he has been for the past few weeks.

CUB BEAR BROUGHT WITH SHOW DELIGHTS THE KIDS

"Teddy" Climbs Trees and Does Other Stunts At the Electric Theater

For the first time since the circus last summer, the kiddies have had a chance to see a real live bear.

At the Electric Theater, with the picture of the 101 Ranch, is a museum of hides and skins and a cub bear. The show is in charge of Fred McCoy and shows the life on the ranches in the west. 101 Ranch is near Bliss, Oklahoma and covers 115,000 acres of Oklahoma land. It is stocked with the very best cattle and the pictures show the cowboys bulldogging the cattle, lassoing and doing all kinds of fancy western stunts.

The main attraction as far as the kids are concerned is the cub bear, "Teddy" which was taken around to the different schools to advertise the show. "Teddy" climbs trees just like a cat and does all the stunts any trained bear can do.

The show goes to Stanberry tomorrow.

TRAMP BUILDS FIRE THEN ROLLS IN IT

JEAN LEDEU SERIOUSLY BUT NOT FATALLY BURNED

AT ST. FRANCIS HOSPITAL

Walks Two Miles After Stripping Off Blazing Clothing—Parents Killed by Indians

With his legs severely burned, Jean LeDeu a French-Canadian, is at St. Francis Hospital today in a serious condition, but he will probably recover.

LeDeau has no home or occupation. He admits that ever since he can remember, his life has been spent as a tramp. Last night he camped near Carr Bridge, southeast of Maryville, building a fire to overcome the twinges of rheumatism in his legs. He awoke early in the morning to find his clothing ablaze, and before he could beat out the flames his legs from his ankles to the waist, were badly burned. He walked two miles to the home of Frank Goodspeed, where a doctor was called and he was brought to the hospital.

The attending physician said this afternoon that the man's burns were deep and very serious but that the injuries would probably not prove fatal. Only the backs of his legs were burned. He was lying with his back to the fire, and it is supposed that he rolled too close to the blaze in his sleep.

LeDeu is a typical knight of the road. He said he was born in Northern Minnesota, near the Canadian line, and that a priest had told him that his father and mother had been killed by Indians when he was but 3 years old. Since that time, he has led a nomadic life. He is apparently about 45 or 50 years old.

CHORUS TO MAKE APPEARANCE SOON

WILL ASSIST IN FACULTY RECITAL EARLY IN DECEMBER

STILL NEED MORE MEN

Goal Is Chorus of 200 Voices—135 At Weekly Practice Held Last Night

Maryville's municipal chorus will make its first public appearance early in December when it will assist members of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music of the State Teachers College in a faculty recital. The date will probably be December 8, and the place the First Christian church.

A chorus of two hundred voices is the goal of the conductor, Charles R. Gardner. The soprano section is unusually strong, but there is need for about ten altos and several more men. At the weekly practice last night, there were 135 singers present, with 28 men.

The faculty recital will also be the first public appearance of Mr. Gardner and of Thomas Howard Annett. The program will include pipe organ solos by Mr. Gardner, piano by Mr. Annett and violin by C. D. Kutschinski. Other members of the faculty will appear in a later recital. The only vocal numbers will be those given by the chorus.

The chorus is now at work on the selections to be given at the recital. It is also preparing for an oratorio to be given later this winter, and for the Christmas caroling which was begun last year.

An interesting survey on the spread of the movement, made last year by the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music in New York, showed that Christmas Eve carol singing through the streets took place in at least 330 cities of all sizes, distributed through 46 states of the Union. Maryville is among them. This compares with a total of not more than 100 in December, 1919, and indicates the remarkably rapid revival of a once universal and subsequently almost forgotten old English custom. C. M. Tremaine, director of the Bureau, expects that this year there will be outdoor caroling in at least 500 towns and cities in the United States.

Besides Maryville there were only four cities in Missouri where the carols were sung in the streets last year.

GARFIELD SCHOOL PUPILS GIVE $5.60 TO RED CROSS

Collection of Pennies Amounts to Enough to Buy a $5 Membership.

Among the most appreciated contributions in the Fifth Aanual Red Cross Roll Call was one received this morning from the pupils of the Garfield school, who contributed $5.60. The money was used for the taking of a $5 membership, in order that more of it might be used in the work in Nodaway county. In each $1 membership, only 50 cents is used in the county work; of the $5 membership, $4.50 is kept for the work here. Most of the Garfield school collection was in pennies. It was turned over to the Red Cross by Miss Ada Albert.

In the list of those who helped in the house-to-house canvass yesterday, the name of Miss Merle Ford was omitted by mistake.

Mrs. Thurman Dickerson of Butler, arirved in Maryville Friday night to visit Mr. Dickerson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dickerson, and other relatives.

FORD WOULD BUY WORLD'S NAVIES

WILL MAKE AUTOMOBILES OUT OF WARSHIPS

WILL GIVE JUNK PRICES

If Navies Are Reduced, Vessels Will Be Sold, Not Sunk, Say Officials

Detroit, Nov. 16—Henry Ford, is willing to buy all the navies in the world at junk prices, he announced today, and turn them into agricultural machinery and automobiles, if the United States and other nations will agree to disarm on the sea.

"You tell these gentlemen in Washington," said Ford, "that I mean business. They may think I can't finance such an undertaking but I can. With acetylene torches and electricity I can cut those warships to pieces and make useful things of them."

Washington, Nov. 16—If the armament conference agrees to the American proposal for a naval reduction, the navy department will receive offers from Henry Ford or any other bidders for the purchase of ships to be scrapped by this nation, it was announced today. The administration does not intend to sink the vessels to be scrapped, it was declared.

WASTE FROM DEFECTIVE VISION

A committee of engineers appointed by secretary Herbert Hoover to study the question of elimination of waste in industry has made a report that embodies some rather startling conclusions along unusual lines.

Our waste as individuals and as a nation has always been a source of wonder to the more frugal nations of the world. Our Complacency in accepting existing conditions has not helped to remedy or correct our faults in the matter of extravagance of men and material but the economic crisis of the past year has induced men to look for underlying causes and to uncover unexpected facts.

One of these with which the Hoover report deals is the matter of defective vision. From the number of people wearing glasses as compared with a generation ago one would think the whole question of vision was being solved but it seems not.

The report estimates that defective vision affects more that half of the average of 42,000,000 men and women employed in American industries and that there is therefore a tremendous loss or waste in production and in poor workmanship due to this cause. It not only affects the character and quality of the work directly but defective eyes, improperly focused, bring about fatigue and mental irritation, which of course curtail the output from workmen's efforts. Twenty-one and seven tenths per cent of the reections from the National army in the recent war was because of eye trouble. The Life Extension Institute examined 10,000 employees in factories and commercial houses and found fifty three per cent with faulty vision.

These facts should at least make people think. The Hoover report covers a wide area of industrial faults but this one is so common and of such general distribution as to command the attention of the whole country at once. Much of the trouble can and should be corrected in children when they are small. A slight difficulty may be corrected when children are small with the chance that they will outgrow it whereas, if they are allowed to wait until grown and the difficulty becomes chronic, there is much less chance for its correction.

Prohibition never became a seriously accepted idea until the industrial world began to learn what it was costing industry and it may be accepted as fairly certain that this report will make its impression. When it is realized that twenty-five millions of people engaged in productive pursuits have faulty vision, the question becomes larger than the mere individual misfortune and assumes a national importance. The difficulties perhaps lies largely in ignorance of the facts, a failure to realize the importance of the subject, and the report should have a wholesome educational influence.

It begins to look like the next "scrap" might be the scrapping of the big navies.

The new auto certificates-of-ownership law is another tax that will yield to the state about $350,000. There are about that number of automobiles licensed in Missouri and the fee for each certificate of ownership is one dollar.

E. Mont Reilly of Kansas City, who was big enough to get the appointment as Governor of Porto Rico from President Harding, doesn't seem to be big enough to hold the job. At least the Porto Ricans do not think so.

A writer says, "just as long as you are green you will keep on growing." In other words as long as you realize the need of more learing you may learn and will try to learn but, when you imagine you know it all, the case becomes hopeless.

It is said that the consumption of ice cream in the United States has increased one hundred million gallons since prohibition went into effect but it is worthy of note that nobody ever starts out to shoot up a town on a few dishes of ice cream.

The promptness with which Secretary Hughes laid his cards on the table face up in the disarmament conference stunned the diplomats of the old countries, who expected to find out what everybody wanted by inference and elimination, but it brought them face to face with a concrete proposition to discuss and paved the way for real and definite results.

School and Health Week Date Set

Jefferson City, Nov. 16—Governor Hyde issued a proclamation yesterday setting apart the week commencing December 4 as school and health week for general observation in all the schools and churches in the state. This is in accordance with a bill passed by the last regular session of the legislature, the idea being to inculcate the importance of building health along with education. The Missouri tuberculosis association, the state board of health and the state department of education will furnish a suggestive program for the week.

NEARLY 500,000 BOYS AND GIRL PIG AND CALF CLUBS

Approximately $5,000,000 Was Awarded in Prize Money to the Boys and Girls.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 16.—Nearly a half million boys and girls pig and calf clubs were conducted in the United States this year and approximately $5,000,000 was awarded in prize money to American farm boys and girls who carried ribbons away at State and County Fairs. Commenting on the popularity of these shows, President C. G. McCahan, of the Poland-China Breed Promotion Committee, said:

"The pig and calf club is the biggest asset to the American farmer today. Through this medium two purposes are served—distribution of pure bred stock on the farms and the keeping of Young America interested in agricultural pursuits. The best welfare of the country and the building up of a stable agriculture in the hands of the American farmer.

"We talk of Americanizing the shop and the factory, but we have forgotten the farm. We are not doing much to keep the American boy from seeking the city, lured by bright lights and intensified jazz. Boys and Girls clubs will do more to interest the young in farming than any other influence. It gives them something that commands their best efforts. This will keep the land in the hands of American farmers and will make a million happy homes in the next generation, because the boys and girls can make money and educate themselves in animal industry and thereby settle one of the big problems that confront the American farmer.

Social Germany A Picture of "Materialism Run Wild"

BY ELLA WINTER

(Written for International News Service.)

Berlin, Nov. 16.—It is a difficult task—the search for a new ideal in Germany to-day. Often one is tempted to give it up altogether.

Social Germany presents a sorry picture. The industrial and economic ravages of the last seven years have not failed in their effects.

In the luxurious holiday resorts one is reminded of the "Decline and Fall." Here one can see how our civilization will end if nothing is done to alter the present trend of events.

Everything is a mad rush for pleasure. In places like Baden-Baden, called "le petit Paris," you imagine you are at the Ascot races. Every afternoon the cafes, resturants and hotels are filed with elegantly-dressed and bejewelled men and women.

Long motor tours are undertaken, though the charge for a taxicab is 600 marks (at the pre-war rate of exchange $120) for an afternoon. In the evenings the hotels and "bars" "Dieles" are filled with revellers, dancing and drinking. The latter is compulsory—in every public place there is "WeinZwang." You are not admitted to any cafe whatsoever unless you undertake to consume wine or champagne. It is a useful source of profit for the cafe owned, and of profit for the State.

"Our Dissolute Society."

The deterioration in manners and morals which results may be imagined. Those Germans who care about their country speak sadly of "unsere velotterte Gesellschaft" ("our dissolute society.")

In the public dancing halls in Berlin chairs are removed and rugs and cushions take their place—the divans of old Rome. Girls cannot be in the street alone after dark.

There is a mania for sex plays—Wedekind, Schnitzler, Sudermann are played in every large town, while the output of plays of less known dramatists on the same subject seems never-ending. At the same time the classical favorites are by no means neglected, and performances of Shaw, Wilde and Shakespeare, as well as modern and ancient German authors, are attended by enthusiastic and crowded houses.

A great national festival is being prepared for Gerhart Hauptmann's sixtieth birthday next year, and so great is German veneration for letters and art that this dramatist-poet is even spoken of as a possible future President of the Republic.

For the militarism we fought to eradicate in Germany we have substituted a possibly worse vice—materialism run mad.

There is no conversation except of prices and exchanges. Middle classes and workers (whose children would be long dead were it not for the magnificent work of the "Quaker-Speisung" in all the big centres) have to talk of the means or livelihood in order to make both ends meet; the rich divide their time between wondering how to grow richer and wondering how long they will be allowed to keep their wealth. It is not a promising atmosphere for the birth of new Germany.

Third Class and No Hats

Although among the upper classes and war profiteers expenditure is so extravagant, there are evidences of some forms of economy. No German travels first class on the railways very few second class. The great majority travel third, although the seats are not padded; and some even fourth. Another form of economy is hatlessness in the most elegant promenades, in town and country, there is hardly a hat to be seen.

In the hotels practically exerything in the way of food can be obtained. But certain reminiscences of war remain. For instance, in the appearance of black bread for breakfast—unless white rolls are especially ordered at a mark apiece—in the badness of the butter—at 32 marks a pound—in the substitute coffee, and the scarcity of milk.

In even the biggest hotels it is customary for guests to keep food in their bedrooms to bring down to the dinning hall their own pots of butter or jam; and it is a common sight to see them pocketing the remains of breakfast or tea—pats of butter, lumps of sugar, a cake, a roll, and even black bread and paper serviettes.

Because taxes are so high hotel proprietors seem to have invented every conceivable way of profit-making, including that of underpaying their staff. A fifteen-year-old lift boy, too ashamed for some time to confess what his earnings were, revealed at last that he was getting 40 marks a month (to-day about two shillings); he was the eldest of a family of eight.

Winter Wheat in Ohio.

Columbus, Nov. 16.—Wheat has appeared above ground, and its condition generally is good, says a report issued by J. C. West, Ohio's agricultural statistician. Statistician West said the quality of this year's corn crop is generally good, although a small percentage is "chaffy." Eastern sections reported some damage from worms.

A NEWSY NOSE ALMOST COST REPORTER BRIDE.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 16.—Here's a new member for the "most forgetful man's club."

V. E. Bundy, Topeka newspaperman was to be married. He had the girl, the ring and everything.

As he journeyed toward the church where the ceremony was to be performed, he witnessed an automobile accident. He stopped, obtained the details, rushed to the office and started to write the story.

Almost too late, Bundy suddenly departed post-haste in the direction of the church. He reached there just in time for the wedding march.

A man's head is not above water because he floats a debt.

Uncle Abner says one kind of twins which is always welcome is the kind whose parents is a cow.

It is hard for the average Maryville family to keep an automobile and the Sabbath at the same time.

The happiest day in the average farmer's life was when his best pig took a $3 prize.

If you want to hear a tale of endless red tape just get a former service man to tell you his trouble in getting a little bit of compensation due him from the government, and how much he appreciated the help of the Nodaway County Red Cross in getting it.

Sugar seems to have got out of the luxury class of war days and got down to normaley with a vengence. Prices in some stores have been five cents a pound if bought with other articles.

It is hard to tell if money makes fools or fools make money by observing some people.

There are many men in Maryville whose idea of a good sport is a fellow who will lend you money.

Uncle Abner says, if you crave something all you have to do is to save something.

What has become of "the prominent citizen" who used to get all puffed up because he was called upon to introduce the speaker of the evening.

If more people would watch their step they would not have time to watch other's missteps.

Have you ever heard of the man who is as busy as a bee ever getting stung?

When the upper lip is stiff there is little danger of the lower one drooping.

Everybody remembers the old fashioned statesman who always said something in "emphatic terms."

A Maryville bachelor was heard to observe that to the average woman the only perfect man is the one she refused to marry.

A little boy living on East Third street passed a blacksmith shop on his way home from school and saw a horse being shod. He ran home and told his mother that he passed a place where they were making horses and saw a man nailing on one of the animal's feet.

If you risk nothing you accumulate a beautiful supply of the same thing.

Louise, the stenographer, says it sometimes is a greater compliment to be trusted than to be loved.

A Maryville bachelor observes that matrimony is like a besieged city—those who are in, want to get out and those who are out want to get in.

Girls grown older now and married are still to be seen on the streets carrying the debutants slouch, which they couldn't shake off after aquiring it in the craze of seven years.

Many shrewd men in Maryville have bought gold bricks in form of experience.

A Maryville woman is in a stew. Her husband received an anonymous letter informing him of something she had done before her marriage. A friend asked her why she did not confess. "He won't show me the letter so I would know what to confess" she wailed.

The average man is always inclined to look on his candid friends as enemies.

A farmer residing near Maryville says he has given up plowing his west 40 acres until foot ball season is over so his son will not be too lame to sit on the tractor.

Louise the stenographer, says she never uses profane language when she is mad at another woman. She merely gives a cursory glance.

Have you ever noticed when a man loses his temper some one nearly always catches it?

A Hopkins man went to the court house the other day and asked to see the papers in a suit in which he was interested. After studying them for a while asked the clerk if he could tell him what it meant in English.

SWISS INVENTS MUFFLER FOR AEROPLANE ENGINES.

KANSAS CITY SHOW WILL REVEAL POULTRY SECRETS

Kansas City, Nov. 16.—Missouri and Kansas will cackle to their hearts' content in Kansas City. Every cackle will tell a story of prosperity reaching the staggering total of $125,000,000—the poultry and egg production of these two states for a single year. The Heart of America Poultry Show and Allied Educational Exhibits opens Tuesday morning, Nov. 29 in the great Convention Hall, the scene of numerous big events. The show will close Dec. 3.

Poultry raising has become one of the leading industries in these two states. Eggs and poultry have been selling high this year, while feed prices have been low. This has meant bigger profits in poultry than ever before. The outlook is poultry prices will continue high and that next year will show good profits to poultry raisers who use the best methods and breeding stock.

The time is by when just any old kind of hen can be fed any old kind of feed and make a profit. Today, the latest methods and the most improved flocks are required to make money in poultry raising. It is fortunate indeed that the poultry raisers of this section are going to be offered a chance to see the very latest methods that are followed by successful poultry raisers.

The United States Department of Agriculture will have a display, showing latest ideas in feeding, housing, culling and selecting for egg production, preventing diseases and many other live topics. Leading manufacturers of incubators, brooders and other appliances will show the very newest things actually in use and practice. Incubators hatching, brooders with live chicks, hens being fed by the latest methods, demonstrations in caponizing, demonstrations in selecting for egg production, are some of the many practical ideas that will be shown every day.

The United States Veterans' Bureau will have a students' judging contest which will be participated in by some of the disabled soldiers, who are studying poultry husbandry. Some of the State Agricultural Colleges will also take part in such a contest.

On the opening day of the Show, twelve beautiful young ladies will participate in a "Goose Race." The race will be held on Main street Tuesday at noon.

It is an opportunity for anyone inshow with just rows upon rows of birds, but it will have educational features that are unique and of real practical help. A regular lecture program is given each day in connection with the many demonstrations that will be offered.

It is an opportunity for anyone interested in poultry raising to get ideas that will prove of money making value to them.

A Thoughtful Suicide.

London, Nov. 16.—Before hanging himself, a man of Issy-les-Moulineaux, near Paris, took every care to avoid giving trouble to his friends. He left on the dining table a knife with a paper bearing these words, "I leave here a knife for the person who wishes to cut the cord."

ARKANSAS FARMER WILL STAY HOME HEREAFTER.

Shawnee, Okla., Nov. 16.—"Mexico is desperation.

"Texas is starvation.

"Oklahoma is speculation.

"The whole world is shot to hell under the Harding administration.

"I'm moving back to Arkansas."

So read the sign painted in bold type on the side of a covered wagon which passed through Shawnee recently.

The farmer declared he has tried life in all of the states mentioned and "was sick of 'em all."

TABBY ESCAPES WITH ALL OF NINE LIVES.

Fairplay, Colo., Nov. 16.—"Tabby," the pet maltese cat of Dr. L. M. Gwinn of Fairplay, escaped with all of its traditional nine lives when it was rescued from an old box in which it had been imprisoned for 99 days, without food or drink.

The children of Dr. Gwinn found the cat in a box, where it is believed to have jumped from a burning building last June. "Tabby" was a handful of skin and bones when rescued. It could not stand on its legs and could not even meow, but is expected to recover under careful nursing.

CHILDREN GET IMPROPER DIET

HEALTH CARD SYSTEM WILL WIPE OUT MALNUTRITION

WEIGHT VERY IMPORPANT

Many School Children Under Weight And Weakened On Account Of Food and Exercises

New York, Nov. 16.—Over 5,000,000 school children in the United States are suffering from malnutrition, according to a bulletin issued by the National Tuberculosis Association recently. Malnutrition when carried far enough becomes plain starvation. The vast majority of these millions of little ones are malnourished as a result, not of insufficient food, but of improper food.

To relieve this situation a plan for instructing the children in correct health habits has been devised by the National Tuberculosis Association in co-operation with Dr. W. R. P. Emerson of Boston, the nutrition expert, and will be inaugurated in schools throughout the country as soon as possible.

The plan will by no means be an experiment, since it will follow the lines of the Modern Health Crusade, in which over 6,000,000 school children of normal weight are now enrolled. In determining what children should be classified as malnourished Dr. Emerson has decided, as a result of long study and careful observation, that a child more than 7 per cent under normal weight for his age and height is clearly suffering from malnutrition. It is on this basis that the estimate of 5,000,000 little ones of school age suffering from insufficient nourishment in this country has been made.

"Chore Card System."

In the plan specially prepared for the benefit of the malnourished children each child will be required, through his teacher and parents, to keep a "chore record" card. This card, which is to be submitted at regular intervals to the teacher, indicates the performance of the following health chores, particularly adapted to the requirements of children suffering from malnutrition:

1. I was weighed this week on the day checked (x).
2. Besides a good breakfast and the noon and evening meals, I ate midmorning and afternoon lunches, as directed.
3. I ate only wholesome food today, including vegetables, fruit, and drank at least a pint of milk, as directed, and tried always to eat and drink slowly.
4. I drank four glasses of water, some before each meal, and drank no tea, coffee nor any injurious drinks.
5. I went to toilet at my regular time.
6. I was in bed last night ten or more hours, as directed, windows open.
7. I rested lying down not less than twenty-five minutes both this forenoon and this afternoon.
8. I played in the fresh air today, exercising for the time and in the way directed.
9. I washed my hands before each meal today.
10. I brushed my teeth thoroughly after breakfast and after the evening meal.
11. I took a full bath on each of the days of the week that is checked (x).

Weight Important

The chore records will also supply a table showing the normal weight that the child should have. His actual weight and normal weight will both be plotted on the chart in curves, so that children and parents can graphically picture the change in physical condition.

By doing the eleven chores faithfully for periods of not less than five, ten or fifteen weeks the child becomes a squire, knight or knight banneret and is entitled to wear the insignia of the Modern Health Crusade. When he gains normal weight he may earn advanced honors by performing standard Modern Health Crusade chores and be admitted to the Health Round Table through physical fitness tests.

With these chore records will be supplied information on nutrition clinics and nutrition classes for the training of children and mothers. "A malnourished child is an easy subect for tuberculosis," says Dr. Charles J. Hatfield of the National Tuberculosis Association. "We shall try by means of these special chore records and with the co-operation of our State and local tuberculosis associations to bring as many of the millions of malnourished children as possible up to a proper standard of health, so that they may better resist the onslaughts of tuberculosis."

POST OFFICE IN PLEA FOR LETTERS AND CARDS

Urge Mailing Only of "Sensible Sized" Letters and Cards During The Holidays

Anticipating the Christmas rush of mail, the postoffice department has issued a plea to citizens for the mailing of only "sensible sized" letters and postcards.

During the holiday season large quantities of very small envelopes and cards are put into the mails with the result that all postal work is very much retarded and mail disfigured and mutilated.

The disadvantages of mailing subnormal letters, as set out by the department:

Addresses will be obliterated by cancellation work.

Too small to be run through facing table, the size of letters necessitates three extra handlings by clerks with consequent delay not only of this but other mail.

Delay in cancellation of stamps because of awkwardness in putting through cancelling machines.

Delayed through difficulty in sorting.

Liability to loss or damage as small sizes do not fit letter packages and cannot be tied securely.

The minimum size for cards and envelopes should not be below 2¾x4 inches, for the reasons set out.

POLAND CHINA BREEDERS ORGANIZATION IN STATE

A Spirited Campaign Against Scrub Hogs On Missouri Farms—To Hold Pig Club Contest

Kansas City, Nov. 16—The Poland-China Breeders of Missouri have organized to make a spirited campaign against scrub hogs on Missouri farms and thereby double the pork production in one of the best corn belt states. The organization effected here a few days ago will have more than one thousand members and a fund of $10,000 annually for three years to carry on the campaign for pure bred hogs in the feed lot.
